ition and did not consult military opinion as to the conduct of the war."

Mr. Asquith asserted the Dardanelles operations had saved the situation in the Caucasus, prevented for months the defection of Bulgaria to the central powers, kept 300,000 Turks mobilized, destroyed some of the finest troops in the Turkish army, and contributed to the favorable events witnessed in Egypt, Mesopotamia, and Persia.

Winston Spencer Churchill, former first lord of the admiralty, severely criticized the manner in which the Dardanelles commission's report had been prepared.

"They built up the narrative by clippings and shippings from documents and by single sentences from the evidence of witnesses," Mr. Churchill said. He

We Want to Let You in on a Secret

Ninety days ago the Shaw Livery and Yellow Cab were asked to help form a combination of livery and taxicab companies to create a trust and increase the rates.

We refused to betray your confidence and trust for three very good reasons: .First, because we are not that kind of "business men." Second, because you have played fair with us and we want to reciprocate; besides, we have a conscience. Third, because we can and do operate cabs more economically than any other company in the world.

When we refused to join this combination, or have anything to do with it, the others went ahead regardless and raised their rates. Have you noticed that they are lowering them again? What is the reason? The reason is that the public won't stand for this "off again, on again, gone again, Finnegan" when it comes down to their pocketbooks. Notice also that in lowering their rates they are not anywhere near as low as we are. Their so-called low rates are exorbitant, and their service nowhere as good as "You can bol some of the people all of the time and all of the people some of the time, but you can't fool ALL of the people ALL of the time,"

The history of the YELLOW CAB shows a steady decrease in the cost to the public. From its very inception it has shown no fluctuation in rates except downwards. And that is the history of every well founded, right minded

FROM THE

Religious Society of Friends (Quakers) in America

To Our Fellow Citizens:

In this time of crisis when our country's highest good is the common aim of all, we voice this deep conviction of patriotic duty.

We rejoice that even at this time, when the world is crazed by war, so many men are judging war by moral and spiritual standards, and by ideals of sacrifice. The causes for which men fight—liberty, justice and peace—are noble and Christian causes. But the method of war is unchristian and immoral. War itself violates law, justice, liberty and peace, the very ends for which alone its tragic cost might be justified.

Further, the method of war is ineffective to these ends. Might does not decide the right, ideals cannot be maintained by force, nor can evil overcome evil. True national honor is a nation's own integrity and unselfish service. Only unswerving honesty and self-control maintain it. Rights, the rights of all, are securely defended between nations as between individuals, by mutual confidence, not suspicion; by universal co-operation and law, not by private armed defense.

The alternative to war is not inactivity and cowardice. It is the irresistible and constructive power of good-will. True patriotism at this time calls not for a resort to the futile methods of war but for the invention and practice on a gigantic scale of new methods of conciliation and altruistic service. The present intolerable situation among nations demands an unprecedented expression of organized national good-will.

Unpractical though such ideals may seem, experience has taught that ideals can be realized if we have faith to practice now what all men hope for in the future. The American Nation, as a more perfect union of States, as a melting pot of races, as a repeated victor through peace, has proved practical the methods of generosity and patience. Throughout many years of an adventurous belief in the Christian principle of human brotherhood, the Society of Friends has seen the triumph of good-will in all forms of human

The peoples of every land are longing for the time when love shall conquer hate, when co-operation shall replace conflict, when war shall be no more. This time will come only when the people of some great nation dare to abandon the outworn traditions of international dealing and to stake all upon persistent good-will.

We are the nation and now is the time. This is America's supreme opportunity.

Unflinching good-will, no less than war, demands courage, patriotism and self-sacrifice. To such a victory over itself, to such a leadership of the world, to such an embodiment of the matchless, invincible power of good-will, this otherwise tragic hour challenges our country.

There being no American boys to send anywhere we can understand that none will be sent -for the present-but we cannot follow the line ought Senator Smoot's mind is traveling, and yet we fear he is speaking for a great many Amercans, probably a majority of them, when he talks of a state of war in which no troops are to be used.

If the United States declares war against Gernany it enters a real war. It does not merely nge from a peaceful to a belligerent state of ind. It becomes subject to all the consequences of defeat. If defeated it could be made to surrender territory and pay indemnities.

These are not extravagant ideas of conse ces. Such consequences are the expected and ces of defeat. Probably the reason for American delusion regarding the penalties of defeat in war is found in the fact that thus far the United States never has had to pay any-because it never has fought a powerful nation when had a real desire to dispose of the United States.

The creation was his as nearly as it could be that of any one man. He may try later to unmake the present government, but the record stands now as a reverse of policy for Northcliffe.

He adopted woman suffrage because of the wonderful work the British women did for the nation, cause of the way in which they came forward. If they were citizens, as they proved they were, hey had to be recognized as such.

He now says that something must be done for the Irish, probably not because of sentimental ns but because the consequences of English ing in Ireland are so sadly revealed against the consequences of British wisdom in South

RAILWAY STRIKES UNLAWFUL. In his opinion upholding the Adamson law the hief justice of the United States gave congress a strong hint, which, it is hoped, will be acted upon without delay.

In affirming the plenary power of congress protect the public from the destructive effects of strike, he said: "As to the employe, here again it "Our Country! > This involved assertion the chief justice made more emphatic by turning from the written opinion to say: "That right (to strike) is necessarily surrendered when the men are engaged in public service. They are comparable to soldiers in the ranks, who in the presence of enemies of their country may not desert."

This is the principle which THE TRIBUNE'S edi torials on the railway controversy have repeatedly asserted, even to the illustration chosen by the distinguished jurist. The principle is, in fact, in- Rev. Even the Book of public over private right.

But the enunciation of this principle by the highest court is one thing, its enunciation by congress is another. Only an emphatic expression of public opinion will bring action from congress The opposition to a compulsory arbitration law, declaring a strike unlawful, would have the opposi tion of organized labor. The president, although he has suggested moderate legislation in this direction, evidently intended his proposal to be taken in the Pickwickian sense, and gave it no real support during the last session. We may be certain, therefore, that there will be no protective legislation against transportation tieups unless the business and agricultural associations and the press organize support.

The public has had two dramatic warnings. It has been saved from calamity in the first instance by a public humiliation of congress, which, under the threat of a strike, without investigation or proper deliberation, passed a law whose terms and quences were admittedly not understood. In it in five minutes. the second instance, in spit. of the existence of a state of war, the party employing the strike as a weapon refused to withhold it and was deterred only by the complete surrender of the other party.

If these warnings are not sufficient to rouse the general public to a sense of the danger existing in this field of industrial controversy, nothing tess than a national disaster will do so. And that disaster will surely come if congress continues to shirk.

THE FAILURE OF VOLUNTARYISM.

[From the Minneapolis Journal.] The predilection of the American people for volunteer military system is sentimental and traditional. The theory has been that whenever need should arise, a sufficient number of young patriots would spring to arms in defense of the country.

We have been content, aside from the small regular army, to confide our defenses on land to volunteer forces, to permit them to bear the bur- that the putter be taken back or brought forward den that should be equally the concern of all. Those whom timidity or self-interest or lack of loyalty prevented from volunteering we have permitted to remain at home, enjoying the institutions they dared not risk their lives to defend.

But the volunteer system has proved no less weak in its workings than in its logic. It has never served us in a great emergency. The union could not have been saved in the civil war without the draft; it could have been saved in one year instead of more than four, with the huge resultant Minor on Foot," by W. J. Childs. saving in blood and treasure, if we had had a system of universal training. The Spanish war was decided on the sea. Our volunteer land forces were inadequate, inefficient and unfitted to cope with a real military force.

In these days when war is made by entire peo ples the volunteer system is a greater failure than ever. England, which long shared the American prejudice for voluntaryism, found this to her cost in the first years of the war. Despite what was perhaps the most magnificent response to a call for volunteers any people in history ever made, Great Britain either had to give up her traditions and install the conscription system or confess defeat. But it is not necessary to go back into history.

Last summer's mobilization of the national guard on the Mexican frontier exhibited the startling weakness of that volunteer force as a dependence. OUR NEW NEGRO CITIZEN. Chicago, March 20.-[Editor of The

We have no Negro problem in Chicago. We have a human problem, in which the Negro plays his part. It is the problem of the under dog. All slum communities present the same problem to a greater or less extent. In the Negro's favor, however, let it be said that he loves comfort more than the European peasant, and will leave squalid surroundings just as soon as he is able. .

It is true that a considerable number of Negroes are coming to Chicago. But is there any real reason for discouragement in this? Have the thousands of Negroes already here hindered Chicago's progress? Will 50,000 or 100,000 more Negroes who are anxious and willing to work affect the situation to any great from "Martha"—note on note leading up to a climax so breath-taking and wholly tremendous that it could only have been sung by the one "marvel-voice." (48788)

Among the other distinguished artists, Lucy Gates sings "The Nightingale Song" and the well-known "Listen To The Mocking Bird" in a soprano of exquisite quality that, combined with bird-calls by a marvelous girl whistler, makes this a record truly worth hearing. (A 5937) Another remarkable record is Graveure's interpretation of the infinitely sweet melody of the world's most loved lullaby, "Kentucky Babe," (A 5939) and Morgan Kingston's wonderfully expressive singing of "My Little Love" and "Wonderful Garden of Dreams." (A 5934)

The Iron Age, world's courier of the steel and metal trades, dictates to The Dictaphone

The men behind the Iron Age have found The Dictaphone a sound investment.

· The statement of what this big publishing organization has accomplished with this modern system of correspondence is an important record for every business man concerned in attaining the utmost in correspondence economy, increased production and dictation convenience.

Here is what C. S. Baur, Advertising Manager, has to say about The Dictaphone in the Iron Age offices:

"During the past eight years THE IRON AGE business has more than doubled. It is today the world's greatest trade paper. During this time the correspondence work in our offices has tripled, but the cost of producing our correspondence is no greater today than it was eight years ago. And this remarkable condition is due, beyond question, to the exclusive use of The Dictaphone in our Correspondence Department. The work of the writer as Advertising Manager of THE IRON AGE formerly required the services of three or four stenographers; but now one typist and The Dictaphone easily handle all his work, which has increased at least 25% over what it was when he dictated to stenographers."

The Iron Age, its executives and clerical correspondents. dictate to The Dictaphone. They began with 3 Dictaphones in 1915. Today, they require 34 Dictaphones to handle the varied dictation of "The Bible of the Steel and Metal Trades."

OTHER goes into the kitchen. She selects this; she selects that. She sees to it that her cooking utensils are spotless. She is cleanly; she is careful; she is particular. And the dish she prepares is the event of the day for the whole family.

Why? Because mother thinks of you, and you know it. You know her sole interest is in the home and the family, and she wants what you eat to be choice, and good, and wholesome, and of the very best quality. And you enjoy it all the more, because she is thinking of all this for you.

Because we believe food products should be handled and prepared with the respect due that which you are asked to buy and eat, we actually insist upon that same sort of home influence in this big institution of ours.

E select; we choose; we are particular. This rule applies to every Wilson product, whatever label it receives.

For the very choicest, the finest quality, we reserve Wilson's Majestic label. This means that Wilson's Majestic Bacon is really-the heart of the finest bacon-sides.

It means that Wilson's Majestic Hams are so rigidly selected that only an average of four out of ten can earn Wilson's Majestic label.

The Maintenance of Quality

There is a new idea in tire making behind Hood Tires. It is the policy of the Hood Tire Company to build the finest and most serviceable tire that modern skill and existing materials will permit. Should invention and the research work of our own and other experts discover better ways or better materials to increase the life and service of a tire, these improvements would unhesitatingly be incorporated in a Hood Tire.

Therefore, a Hood Tire will always be, as it is now, the pre-eminent tire—the tire with more plies of fabric, better fabric, more and better rubber, more scientific and better methods of construction, better and finer materials-giving you that tire of quality which is unquestionably the tire of greater mileage, longer life and increased safety. Allen Bill "Rot

Political Quacks are Frightened Because There is a Chance to Have Chicago's Traction Ouestion Settled for Good

OR twenty years the politicians who are shouting "Allen Bill" have posed as Traction Doctors.

"Elect us to office," they have been promising, "and we will settle the Traction Question."

What did they do to settle it when the people gave them a chance?

Nothing!—Not a solitary thing!

They went out of office, leaving the Traction Question just as they had found it.

Now they want to ride back in on the same old issue.

The City is endeavoring to have the Traction Question settled for good before the politicians can make further use of it as a campaign issue.

The politicians want to prevent such a settlement. Having no, legitimate argument against the City's Plan, they are shouting "Allen Bill."

HE Allen Bill was killed twenty years ago.

And why was the Allen Bill killed?

Because it contained no provision for compensation to the City or for giving the people a chance to vote on the question of making the grant.

Because the City got nothing under the provisions of the Allen Bill-no chance to buy; no right to regulate or control the company's operations—not even a promise of improved service.

No wonder the Allen Bill was killed!

HE Plan offered by the City's Traction and Subway Commission provides for an investment of $500. 000,000 and the building of more than 200 miles of Subway and Elevated and more than 500 miles of Surface Lines

It gives the City a direct interest in the ownership, operation and profits of the property from start, and gives the public the right to acquire full ownership and control of the whole system at any time.

Most important of all, it provides that the entire proposition shall be submitted on a referendum to the people for their approval before it can become effective.

AN you think of any honest reason for fastening the Allen Bill tag to the City's Plan?

The whole purpose of the politicians who are handing out Allen Bill "Bunk" is to deceive the people and prevent a settlement of the Traction Question.

To settle it would leave the politicians

Are you going to listen to the politicians whose purpose is to make capital for themselves by keeping Chicago in a Traction Muddle forever?

Or do you want subways and other enormous rapid transit improvements that will help the city's growth and be of immediate and lasting benefit to every citizen?

HERE'S always a glad welcome awaiting any picture in which William S. Hart is featured. Women like his bigness; and the badness that only thinly veils a heart of gold and a character of sterling worth, only serves to make his attraction more fatal. Men rejoice in the wild-westiveness and back-to-nature elements that surround him. And to the kids he's a hero, a "reg'lar guy." So we think Mr. Hart and his pro should be well content. It is not every star who is so generally popular.

He is here again in a new picture,
"The Square Deal Man." In it he is Jack Diamond, a gambler, known to those of Oxide and the surrounding country as "Jack o' Diamonds" and a square sport. He and an old man he has "sort of adopted," and who calls him "Pa," run a gambling game.

The parson, collecting money for destitute widow with a little girl, re-fuses Jack's offered aid, telling him that he is a parasite. The gambler, finding that the word means "something that lives off others," is set thinking. He pays a visit to the widow, and, seeing her helpless baby on the floor, realizes suddenly that it is from such as these that he has been taking money. From that time on he bars married men from his game. A choleric southerner, with money swollen pockets, refusing to tell his marital status, finally, however, by gibes and insults gets into a game.

fracas follows, in which he is killed.

Jack o' Diamonds believes he has done the deed. In the colonel's pocket he finds a picture of the player's daughter. He sets out to find her and make restora-tion, not only of the deed to the dead man's property, which the former made over to him, but by bossing the storing order to the confusion produced by the owner's death. -I have been told my soil needs lime. 1. How can I determine?
2. How and in what quantities

ANS.-1. Take a fair average sample of soil, from surface to subsoil, at the suspected spot—sufficient to fill a it jar loosely. Pour sufficient water on to cover the sample, stir it gently, and let it stand overnight. Then take a slip of blue litmus paper, bought at the The daughter of the southerner, who druggist's for 5 to 10 cents for a phialful, Dip this into the water after again tumn with the manure. Apply it on a imestone will serve the same purpose Unless applied in larger quantiti treatment may be needed in alternate years until the underlying causes ar removed, probably lack of drainage.

Q .- Could the clayey soil of the wes side be improved and loosened up by the addition of sand?—M. F. ANS.-No, the sand would improve neither the chemical nor the mechanical condition and would soon disappear. Apply plenty of manure and lime tumn, plow or spade it under, and leave it in the rough. If the application i made this spring, turn it under deeply unless the manure is well rotted. Do the elements disintegrate the lumps cultivation a day or two after rains, and able and easily worked. This Spring Opening of 1917—places before our patrons the final decrees of the mode for spring and summer.

It is like some wonderful book to which the last chapter has just been written and the last page has just been illuminated with a brilliant setting of fashions. What comes now may broaden upon the subject but certainly will not change the theme. Consequently, this affair of fashion punctuates our completed preparedness to meet every requirement of a discriminating patronage which this new season may suggest.

Women's New Spring Suits

With every slightest detail in every suit at its best, these Opening Week collections afford an opportunity to choose the Easter suit, we believe, not to be sur-

New Blouses in the Vogue

Surely the earliest flowers of spring are the flowers of fashion that bloom in the blouse section.

With Georgette crepe as the almost universal medium, tinted in exquisite colorings and shades of colors, is accomplished a variety of-

For Business Reserves

The plan of building up a reserve in the form of conservative and readily negotiable bonds as "business insurance" has been steadily gaining favor among farsighted business firms.

Such a reserve may tide a firm over a period of financial stress when credit is denied those with less attractive collateral. It may make available an exceptional business opportunity which might otherwise not be possible. It has substantially all the advantages of a cash reserve, with the added advantage of a fair return on the invest-

Only tho. see and readily marketable bonds should be considered for such a reserve. Our list contains many such issues, circulars descriptive of which we shall be glad to furnish upon application for list. Write, call or telephone (Wabash 6900) for Circular C-21.

Company, New York, and F. I. Kent, New York, Trustees.

This Company operates under the jurisdiction of the Rublic Utilities Commission of the State of Idaho and the Public Service Commission of the State of Oregon

The Idaho Power Company, operating without competition, serves with electric light and power the Snake River plains, extending across southern Idaho and into eastern Oregon. The territory served has an estimated population of 150,000 and includes the cities of Boise, Pocatello and Twin Falls and practically every other important community in southern Idaho. The soil of this district is remarkably fertile under irrigation, and produces abundant crops.

The Snake River flows through the field of the Company's operations and presents unusual opportunities for the development of hydro-electric power at low cost. The present plants owned by the Company have a generating capacity of 32,000 H. P., which may be expanded to meet future demands for power at an unusually low development cost.

NEW YORK, March 20.—There was a sharp advance in the cotton market today with May contracts selling at 18.82c and October at 18.30c, or more than $1.50 per bale above last night's final figures. Reactions followed, but the closing tone was steady with May quoted at 18.61c and with the general list showing a net advance of 10@17 points. Some of the spot house buying of new crop deliveries was said to be in expectation of peace before the end of the season and of an urgent demand from Europe for early new crop receipts. Exports for the day were 17.461 bales, making 4.238.568 so far this season. Port receipts, 23,784. United States port stocks, 1,234,795. Futures:
